My Everyday

I am an Elementary Education Major at IPFW. I am heading into my last year as a Don. When I am not spending my time in the gym, I am with my friends and family. I come from a family of six. I have two older brothers and a younger sister. We enjoy spending time together at the lake surfing, wakeboarding, and just enjoying the sun. There is always a competition going on and never a dull moment in our house.

My Philosophy

I LOVE coming into the gym for practice everyday. The love of the game and the constant battle between victory and defeat are what motivate me to work hard everyday and give these kids my best. My mom always says, "PASSION CREATES MAGIC." That one line has so much truth in it. It's unbelievable how contagious the passion for this game is. It is my goal to instill that same fiery passion in every single one of my players.

Passion is the starting place for greatness, but then I think these three things are what lead to true success. OUT SMART, OUT WORK, & OUT TEAM. By OUT SMART I mean gaining a full knowledge of this game, understanding what is going on on the other side of the net and what can be done on our side to affectively score us points. Those who out smart their opponents are those who have become students of the game. OUT WORK. It's simple. Put the time in and work smart. I love it when I make the perfect practice plan. I understand that if I work, they'll work. And there is no greater reward than that. Finally OUT TEAM. We build trust amongst each other so that when the going gets tough we know that we have each other's backs. We pick our teammates up when they are down. We cover for them when they are struggling. We work together as one unit. We communicate to each other on and off the court. Working as a team has a powerful impact. I hope to instill these standards in each player, so they can go on and see the success of greatness.
